Council Elections Near Amid Flying Rumors, Campaigning

• AFTER DAYS FILLED with rumors, anticipation and rumor denial, all candidates for Student Council positions filed for office as petitioning closed at 5 p.m. on Friday.

All day Friday, candidates, would-be candidates and other curious students gathered in the Student Activities Office. Earlier in the day the petitions were much fewer than those "in the know" had expected. It seemed that many offices would go uncontested. As the hour approached, however, there was the traditional last-minute rush. One petitioner, who shall remain nameless, even rushed in at five o'clock on the dot.

Now that the petitioning is over, the time for higher politics has come. Campaigning, which began today, will continue at a hectic pace until Thursday evening. No one will be able to escape the gauntlet in front of Monroe Hall.

The backbone of the campaigning will be the elections assembly today at 12:30 p.m. in Lisner Auditorium. Speeches have been cut to three minutes to make the program fast-moving.

Vote Sought

The Student Council hopes that this year all students will vote.

The two candidates for president are Roy Barnard and Howard Roberts. Mr. Barnard has served as comptroller of the Student Council, treasurer of Sigma Nu, is a member of Gate and Key, the Old Men Executive Board, Campus Combo and the Glee Club. Mr. Roberts has been President of Acacia, the Interfraternity Council, Gate and Key and a member of the Student Life Committee.

Veep Candidates

Running for vice-president are Joe Allen, vice-president of Delta Tau Delta, advertising manager of the Cherry Tree and rush chairman of the Inter-Fraternity Council; Cecil Charles, Gate and Key, rush chairman and treasurer of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, membership chairman of the Boosters Board and parade chairman of the Homecoming Committee; and Norman Cohen, Alpha Epsilon Pi. PRO Readies New Booklet

• A VIEW BOOK showing developments at the University over the past 20 or 30 years is being prepared for publication by the Public Relations Office.

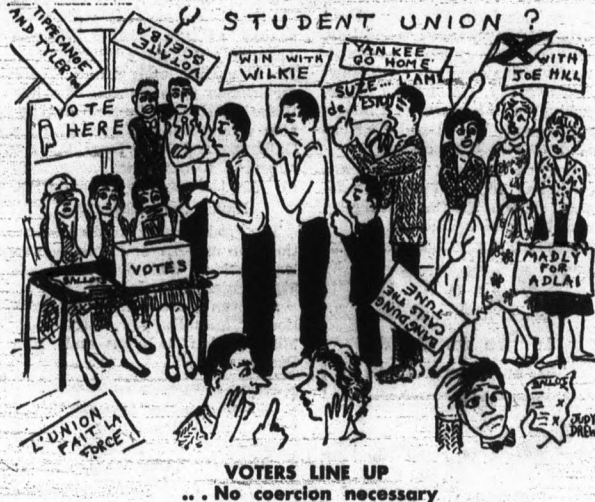

The book is being prepared by Miss Margaret Davis and Mr. John Toomey of the Public Relations staff and will be completed this summer.

Distribution of the brochure will be mainly to the alumni to inform them about the many new and varied activities, services, and buildings which we now have at the University.

This new project is in keeping with the nationally expanding field of alumni relations and will be similar to view books already in use by universities throughout the country.

The booklet, which will be almost entirely pictorial, is still in the planning stages. However, photographers have been at work on campus for several days taking the publication's pictures, including everything from the Student Union to the Beta-Ray Spectrometer now on loan to our Physics Department from the Navy Department.

Features such as the many research projects at the University, the increasing number of PhD's being graduated each year, the growth of the Graduate Council and the many counseling services available at the University will be emphasized.

ROTC Cadets Hold Annual Formal Drill

• ACCOMPANIED by the wail of bagpipes, the kiltless Air Force ROTC cadets will march to the West Potomac grounds on Wednesday, May 4, for their annual formal parade and review ceremony.

The Cadets, who will leave Mitchell Parade Ground at 12:40 p.m., will arrive at the West Potomac ground at 1 p.m. They will be accompanied by the Bolling Air Force Base Drum and Bugle Corps, who will also provide the bagpipes.

Awards to outstanding cadets will be made by members of the University administration. Bobbie Ruth Moore, commander of the AFROTC Flying Sponsor Squadron, will present honorary second lieutenantships to new members of the Squadron.

Demonstration

The Pershing Rifles Cadet Drill Team, recently returned from national competition at Pennsylvania State College, will present a trick drill demonstration. The team won two honors in the 1955 Cherry Blossom Festival competition.

Other Medals

Also the CHICAGO TRIBUNE Gold AFROTC MEDAL, Cadet Major Ivan W. Fitzwater; The CHICAGO TRIBUNE Silver AFROTC Medal, Cadet Airman First Class Walter J. Critchlow; the Republic Aviation Award, Cadet Captain Walter L. Baumann; the Convair Cadet Award; Cadet Tech. Sergeant Edward M. Boothe; the Colonial Cadet Rifle Trophy, Cadet Second Lt. Robert C. Knowles; the National Rifle Association Sharpshooter Badge, Cadet Second Lt. Louis L. Clipp.

The following cadets will receive Cadet Officer's Association Junior Memberships: Cadet Capt. Walter L. Baumann, Cadet Capt. Samuel

Achievement Awards

Pershing Rifles Achievement Medals will be awarded to the following cadets: Medals in Gold to Cadet Major Stewart W. Mooney and Cadet Capt. Samuel J. Keyser; Medals in Silver to Cadet Capt. James A. Cauffman, Cadet Master Sergeant Sherwin Cogan and Cadet Master Sergeant David G. Ross; Medals in Bronze to Cadet Master Sergeant Wade S. Algee, Cadet Tech. Sergeant Aaron J. Peikin and Cadet Airman First Class Stephen E. Reymers, Jr. (See R. O. T. C., Page 11)

Comptroller's Meeting Searches for Handbook Funds, Conference Need

• A SOLUTION ALLOWING for both an annual Career Conference and a Student Handbook, was unanimously agreed upon by the interested representatives attending the special Student Council Comptroller's meeting on the subject last Thursday.

The meeting had been called for the purpose of finding funds to permit both a yearly Student Handbook and a Career Conference, as it was felt both are important and popular programs. When the original budget of $600 for the Handbook was submitted to the University Budget Committee, it was turned down. The issue was resolved to the question of whether funds already allocated for the Career Conference should be given alternately to the Handbook budget, thereby reducing the Conference to a bi-annual event.

Arguments Given

At the Student Council meeting of April 20, representatives from the Handbook and the Career Conference presented their arguments and agreed that if possible, existing funds from other activities might be readjusted to al-

May Day Shows Council Winners, Activities Queen

• THE ANNUAL May Day program will be held this Friday, May 6, at Lisner Auditorium.

The program, climaxing the year's activities, will be highlighted by such events as the crowning of the May Queen, the tapping of new Omicron Delta Kappa and Mortar Board members, announcement of honors and awards and the winners of the Student Council elections.

League Lists Standards for Good Council

• A NON-PARTISAN League for Good Student Government was formed last week with the purpose of interesting capable people in running for Student Council offices and to encourage increased voting.

The temporary co-chairman of the League are Jim Rudin and Bob Riggs.

The League will send out questionnaires to the candidates for this year's elections. The questionnaires will consist of five questions, and the answers will be posted on a special bulletin board in Monroe Hall.

Some Questions

Samples of the questions which will be asked the candidates are: Do you believe the Career Conference and the Student Handbook should be retained every year, and do you have any proposals for retaining both? Are you in favor of a compulsory student activity fee? Do you favor a compulsory athletics fee?

The League has set up criteria for what they believe are the four most important offices. First they believe that all Student Council Officers should not participate extensively in other major activities but should make their Student Council position their major activity. In addition they wish a president who has definite organizational ability. "He has a lot of things to do and he should not do them all himself," said Jim Rudin.

Other Needs

The vice-president should be someone who will serve as a strong aide to the president. The League also believes that the member-at-large should become one of the stronger officers on the Council. The Advocate, feels the League, should be a man not afraid to enforce the law.

The League wants to emphasize the necessity of voting for candidates, not because of their popularity, but because of their ability and experience.

An organizational meeting will be held Wednesday, May 11, at noon, in the Student Council Office. Anyone interested in joining the League is invited to the meeting. No member of next year's Student Council may become a member of the League.

The Glee Club, directed by Dr. Robert Harmon, will open the program singing "I Was Strolling in the Park One Day" and "Maretta." The Dance Production Group will perform two numbers, including "Carousel," under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Burton.

May Queen Chose

The choosing of the May Queen, an old University tradition, will be from among the female University seniors recently elected to "Who's Who." The candidates are: Barbara Bailey, Carolyn Berk, Beverly Blades, Shirley Floyd, Betty Graham, Susan Hurst, Doris Johnson, Virginia Leetch, Aphrodite Macotsin, Virginia Page, Pat Reed, Mariette Schneider, Sue Scott and Phyllis Ames Willford.

Voting for the candidates will be held on Friday at a polling booth in front of the Student Union from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Finalists Announced

At 1 p.m. announcement of the three finalists will be made, and voting will be held to pick the Queen from these three girls. All women students are eligible to vote on presentation of their activities book.

Tom Pence, master of ceremonies of the May Day festivities, will introduce all the candidates. They will be escorted into the auditorium by the male members of "Who's Who." The Queen will then be crowned by Tom Brown, President of the Student Council.

Innovation Planned

A new feature of the May Day Program will be the tapping of new members of Omicron Delta Kappa, the men's honorary society. Mortar Board, the women's honorary, will also tap new members.

In addition to the annual May Day awards, the De Angelis annual trophy is to be given to the most valuable player on the varsity baseball team. Also, the Colonial Boosters Andy Davis Award will be presented to the student exhibiting the most school spirit; the Pi Beta Phi award to the outstanding senior woman.

Man's Award

The Omicron Delta Kappa award for the outstanding senior man will be given; the Alpha Delta Pi award for the outstanding junior woman and the Mortar Board award to the outstanding sophomore woman. The recipients of the awards will be chosen by the (See MAY DAY, Page 2) low for both entities. In order to explore the issue more fully, Tom Brown, Student Council president, called last Thursday's meeting.

After considerable discussion at Thursday's meeting, Council Comptroller Roy Barnard stated that one requisite for a Handbook would be the inclusion of advertising, and that half the cost of publishing the book should be obtained from advertising.

Funds Adjusted

It was then suggested that the other half of the budget could be financed by reallocations of funds from other organizations, in the form of donations. A three to one ratio for the remaining $300 deficit was established and Mr. Jim Swisher, business manager of the HATCHET, agreed to cut operation expenses for this year by $225, while Mr. Bob Riggs, 1955 co-chairman of the Career Conference, agreed to donate $75 by reducing the Conference budget.

The findings and the recommendations of the meeting concerning fund reallocation have been put into a letter and will be presented to the University Budget Committee for consideration by Miss Virginia Kirkbride and Dr. Don C. Falth, activities directors.

University Girl Wins Fulbright Fellowship

• A FULBRIGHT AWARD for graduate study in chemistry at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, has been awarded to Barbara Guarco, outstanding University senior.

Miss Guarco will sail from New York on the "Queen Elizabeth" on September 14. Also on board will be Carroll McKelligott, en route to the University of London. The University's third Fulbright scholar, Bob Riggs, will sail a week later, leaving on September 21 on the "Queen Mary." He

Women's Coordinating Board, she was elected last fall to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

She has served as secretary-treasurer of Iota Sigma Pi, the women's chemistry honorary; as treasurer of the Panhellenic Council.

She was also social chairman and treasurer of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority; and as vice-president of Alpha Theta Nu, scholarship holders' fraternity.

Miss Guarco is also a member of Delphi, intersorority honorary. She was president of the German Club and a member of the Rifle Club, Newman Club and Big Sis.

D.C. Home Ec Society Meets

• "FASHION HAS BECOME a field for trained experts," said Miss Elizabeth Fairrell, vice-president of Julius Garfinkel and Company on Thursday evening, April 21, at Lisner Auditorium in her speech to the District Home Economics Society.

In her discussion of "Women in Retailing," she said that to become a buyer a girl must be willing to start at the bottom and work her way up in an organization.

Miss Fairrell, who recently taught a course at American University, quoted from several of the guest lecturers in her course to give comparative definitions of style and fashion. As she has been awarded the French Legion of Honor award for outstanding work in the field of fashion, her talk included stories of her experiences as a buyer in Paris.

Mary Elizabeth Shea, president of the Home Economics Society, introduced the speaker and welcomed visiting students from Howard University, Gallaudet College, Washington Missionary College, Georgetown Visitation Convent and Anacostia High School.

A period of questions and answers was followed by refreshments served by the University Home Economics Club.

Dance Production Group Rehearses Spring Show

• THE DANCE PRODUCTION groups are continuing their spring program with several varied and interesting events.

Recently the groups performed in the Choreographers' Workshop which was sponsored by the Modern Dance Council of Washington. The University's group selected "Facades" and "Three Dances" as their contribution to the program. The Workshop consisted of two categories; one for students in modern dance and the second for professional dancers in the vicinity.

USO Attention

As a result of their participation in the Southwest Fiesta last summer the Dance Production Groups attracted the attention of Mr. J. R. Brown, assistant director of the USO Lafayette Square Club. He invited the groups to present a full evening's program.

Under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Burtner, the groups appeared at the former Belasco Theatre on Sunday night, April 24. This USO club serves 25,000 servicemen each month. The historical setting of the Belasco Theatre where Helen Hayes, Eva La Gallienne and Paul Douglas have appeared formed the background for the University's presentation.

Dance Demonstrations

The groups also gave demonstrations of modern and folk dances last week at Wakefield and Coolidge Senior High Schools.

All events are under the direction of Miss Burtner, assisted by Miss Evelyn Lohof and Tom Pence.

Buff Boosters Attend Banquet, Workshop

• OLD AND NEW members of the Colonial Boosters Board were guests at a dinner given Tuesday evening, April 26, at Welling Hall by Mr. Max Farrington, assistant to the President of the University.

Host at the dinner was Mr. William Myers, adviser to the Boosters. Bob Riggs, new chairman of the Boosters Board, greeted the new board members and special guests, including Dr. Burnice Jarman,

Big Sis Hold Workshop to Explain Jobs

• "BIG SIS IN ALL Ways—Al-ways" will be the theme of the annual Big Sis Workshop which will be held this Saturday, May 7, from 10 to 12 in Government 102.

Mrs. Eva Johnson of the Psychology Department will be the main speaker at the Workshop.

Each Big Sis officer will explain the duties of her office and what her committee has been doing. After this, four questions will be presented to the group. These questions will deal with how to acquaint a Little Sis with the University, faculty and campus activities and how to help a Little Sis to meet more people, especially during her first few weeks on campus.

The group will then be divided into eight panels with each question going to two different panels. The panels will discuss their questions and then report them to the group in general.

The Workshop will also include an announcement of the Outstanding Big Sis.

Big Sis was organized at the University by Mortar Board in 1943 for the purpose of helping to orient new women to life on this campus. This is accomplished by corresponding with Little Sisters during the summer months and then through registration and Orientation Week.

Four Cheerleaders Join Squad Following Tryout

• FOUR NEW CHEERLEADERS were chosen for next year's squad at tryouts held last Monday at the gymnasium.

Chosen by a committee of judges on the basis of pep, appearance, coordination, voice and personality, Julie Cairns, Loydell Jones, Helen Niles and Inez Tonelli have become University cheerleaders.

Bev Alexander was picked for the squad for the second consecutive year. Juniors Ruth Berryman, Bette Kolonia and Betsy Silver, having served two years, were not required to try out this year.

Betsy Silver will be captain of the squad for 1955-56. Retiring members of the squad include senior Aphie Macotsin and former captain Bobbie Ruth Moore.

Judges for the tryouts were let-termen Corky Devlin, Joe Petcavich, Joe Holup, Dick Gaspari and Bob Goodwin, and the two captains, Miss Moore and Miss Silver. Tryouts followed several weeks of practice sessions in the gym.

The Cheerleaders attend all home games, and members of the squad also attend most away games. Together with the pep band and the mascots, George and Martha, they coordinate student cheering at athletic events.

The squad inaugurated indoor pep rallies last season as part of their cheerleading.

Union Board Wants Reply

• ORGANIZATIONS WHICH do not reply to questionnaires sent them by the Student Union Board by next week will lose their office space in the Student Union Annex.

The questionnaires are part of a program of the Student Union Board to make available to new organizations badly-needed office space and to distribute this space among all organizations in the Annex in order of need.

The questionnaires concern meeting times, membership, adequacy of present space, number of keys to offices, etc. Replies should be sent to Mr. Tore Haugeto, assistant chairman of the Student Union Board.

The necessity for such a program was made apparent when the Board tried to find office space for the Colonial Cruise Committee and found many offices occupied but rarely used. The board is contemplating yearly applications for office space in the Annex to weed out clubs that go defunct but fail to move from their offices.

The Student Union Board is headed by Lucy Anstine, chairman; Tore Haugeto, assistant chairman; Rosalind Hauk, corresponding secretary; and Betty Lou Anderson, recording secretary. Members are Lud Griner, Gene Lambert, Dick Sincoff, Stella Striner and Janet Vernelson.

Replies to the questionnaire already received indicate that several offices can be vacated by their present occupants and thus provide space for other organizations.

Old Men Close Petition Drive

• ON APRIL 20, the "Old Men" membership campaign successfully closed with a total of 138 petitions.

There was such a flow of requests for petitions during the last days that at one point Activities Assistant Miss Jane Rosenberger had to rush out and print a new supply. Commenting on the success of the drive, "Old Men" President Jim Swisher declared, "With 138 petitions we can't lose. It is evident that the University is behind us."

Members of "Old Men" will be assigned "sons" shortly after the close of the current University semester as soon as lists of incoming male freshmen are compiled. The "Old Men" will then correspond with their "sons" during the summer and at the opening of the fall semester will help acquaint them with the campus and the extracurricular activities on campus. The "Old Men" will also help guide their "sons" through registration and help them with any problems.

A workshop for all the new "Old Men" is being planned for Saturday, May 7.

Editorial

The Uninformed—

• THIS WEEK'S Student Council elections afford the editors of this newspaper an excellent chance to sit back and second-guess. But unlike the rest of the arm-chair quarterbacks, we do not dote over who is going to win what offices. We merely wonder whether this year the elections are going to run as they have in the past, or whether the students are going to back up their words with action and really vote for those candidates they consider the most qualified.

This year the elections are interesting from several viewpoints. For one thing, there are no major issues upon which to campaign. Candidates may kick around the well-battered question of the student fee, or perhaps some will choose to dwell further on the seemingly-solved parking problem, but these will make tenuous platforms at best. It will take more than a good three-minute speech to win this year.

But stripped of all the excess trimmings, all student elections eventually boil down to one thing, on-campus politicking. As every good University politico knows, the bulk of the votes, especially in the major races, comes from the independent night-school voters. The figures invariably prove that for all campaigning done by fraternities and sororities, this group casts only about one-third of the votes for president and the other major offices. This leaves a great deal of the responsibility in the hands of the night-schoolers.

This situation is bad and may well continue to be. The night-school students at the University have too many outside interests, such as jobs and families, to ever take an active interest in on-campus affairs. For this reason many of these people wind up voting for the candidate with the most imposing array of "qualifications." Or even worse, they walk along the block in which the election booths are set up, are grabbed by upwards of three campaign managers at once, and vote for the candidate whose "leg men" reach them first. The fault here, we feel, lies not with the campaigners, since in the situation at the University this is inevitable. It is up to the uninformed would-be voter to find out beforehand just which candidates are actually best qualified. Only if this is done can we have a truly impartial Student Council election. As the newly-organized League for Good Student Government puts it, "Never vote for a name alone. Find out about your candidates. These people are going to run your student government."

All-American

Highest Rating Granted HATCHET in Judging; Cheers for Foggy, News

• THE HATCHET earned an All-American rating from the Associated Collegiate Press for the first semester of 1954-55.

This is the second consecutive semester that the paper has received the highest rating accorded by the ACP, earning 1700 out of a possible 1800 points, not including bonus points for superior ratings.

News received the best scores in the paper, the highest in a number of years. News was praised higher for content than for coverage, obtaining "superiors" in style and content. Special comment was accorded the HATCHET'S "short leads" and "excellent, professional style."

Foggy Bottom, a perennial favorite in the annual popularity polls held by the HATCHET, earned the following comment: "Foggy Bottom" is one of your best features . . . because it incorporated little anecdotes and personality items that wouldn't ordinarily be used."

Criticisms of the paper included suggestions that the front page should be "brightened by more good news—feature copy—and that more human interest material and 'yarns on school traditions and history' should be included.

The ACP, with headquarters at the University of Minnesota, rates college papers all over the country twice a year. Ratings, which range from fourth class to All-American, are awarded after a comparison with other papers in the same classification. The HATCHET is scored as a weekly at a university with an enrollment of more than 4,000.

Papers are judged on coverage, content and physical properties—including make-up, headlines, typography and photography.

Letter

Leaders Cite Band's Work On Cruise

• THE MEMBERS of the 1955 Colonial Cruise Committee would like to take this opportunity to extend their sincere appreciation to all members of the University Pep Band for the fine job executed at the Spring Outing.

As those who attended will recall, the members of the band began their work early in the morning at the dock and continued until the last person left the USS Mt. Vernon at midnight. Service such as this—and incidentally, free of charge—is the type of co-operation that continues to keep the University a close-knit school rather than a spread out, typical city college.

The band gave freely of its time and practiced for weeks beforehand, to help make this University function the success that it was.

In closing, may we say that "words are but empty thanks."

Sincerely,

Intercollegiate

Season, by Reason Has Editors Wheezin'

by Associated Collegiate Press

• SPRING (and April Fool) in all its glory was fully noted in the collegiate press of the nation during the recent weeks. In a thousand campus newspapers were a thousand editorials or columns dedicated to the arrival or postponement of the balmy season, while April Fool editions kept ACP editors in a cold sweat trying to distinguish the ridiculous from the sublime.

Spring headlines featured college elections, campus queens, proms and the inevitable "ugliest man on the campus," while the April Fool editions came in all conceivable shapes and forms: upside down, inside out and completely loaded with the most bizarre examples of writing this side of the Kremlin publicity bureau.

Fool Joke Spoiled

The Colorado School of Mines Oredigger came up with the discovery of the world's most perfect Texan—he owns a herd of 100,000 cows that give oil. Long Island University's Seawanhaka announced the Suicide Club would meet for the last time today on the roof. And the Iowa State Daily tells the story of the student who make a "fake" keg of dynamite, took it into a nearly filled lecture room, lit the fuse and rushed out the door as part of his April Fool endeavor. A few seconds later there was a tremendous explosion. "I failed," said the student sadly, "nobody was fooled at all. I guess I should have left out the powder."

Spring shenanigans, on the other hand, were in full bloom again this year. At Hillsdale College a pretty miss was named Miss Blood Drop of 1955 for her assistance with the recent over-the-top blood drive. And a new chain letter began to hit the campuses from coast to coast. Aimed at male students who might be tired of their wives, the letter suggests they bundle up their wives, ship them to each name on top of the letters they receive; then when their names come to the top they may receive 8,750 women. "Have faith," says the letter, "and don't break the chain. One man did and got his own wife back."

Cars Relined

Young men's fancies also were turned to other odd accomplishments, such as the huge sign someone erected over the Student Union at South Dakota State College, reading "We Buy Hogs Every Day," or the major feat of reparking about 15 cars on the campus of Dana College at Blair, Nebraska.

According to The Hermes, student paper of Dana College, about 40 "parking specialists" on the campus heeded a plea for students to leave plenty of parking space

by Hester Heale

• ALL KINDS OF NEWS, chaps. As I have frequently remarked, in Springtime people get more news-worthy.

We hear that the SAE's had a rip-roaring party last Friday night. Ed Crump was seen complaining to Al Swisher that the beer was no good. Could it be because Ed had done a lot of sampling, and had lost his appetite for the staff of life? . . . Cecil Charles and Bobbie Ruth Moore were the people that weren't there—they were seen coming and going, but where were they in-between? Wes Thomas tried to cheat in Indian Signs, by either giving the wrong sign, or giving his own too fast. He was apprehended, and had to pay the price of the cheater. . . . You've got to watch these sneaky types. . . . The SAE's also report a pinning . . .

Ray Murray to Pat Higgs. When Ray first announced the momentous news, his word was doubted, but upon later inspection it proved to be true, quite true.

Acacia's annual Founder's Day Banquet proved it's usual success. Friday night with a capacity crowd at Fagan's Steak House, Prexy Laurie Locke, after several Hanky Bannisters, had to make his speech twice, as he talked into the wrong end of the mike the first time. Howie Roberts, alumni chairman, gave a resume of the year's activities, and then everyone settled down to an evening of serious partying. Highlight, gott wott, was the jitters-bugging of Betty Kolonia, Acacia's sweetheart, and George Moser, G. W.'s answer to Andre Eglevsky. Utterly ignoring the Alum-Active chug-a-lugging contests, Bette and George danced on until they discovered the orchestra was actually playing a mambo. When asked his opinion of the dance, Howie Roberts said, off the cuff, "American Airlines carries more passengers than any other airlines."

Two unique pinning took place last week chez Sigma Chi. Jim Holtzer, more commonly known to the troops as Jake, pinned Joanne Little, hometown nurse from York, Pa. The pinning is alleged to have taken place in the intimate atmosphere of a Hot Shoppe parking lot. Gary Griffith pinned DG Anne Bageant, who was quite taken aback by the manner in which she was pinned, rather a bit. The Sigs had their annual Bermuda Shorts party Saturday night, which could be heard all the way to the Library of Congress. (I know, because that's where I was at. In the stacks.)

Zeta's Western Party Friday night at Pallasades Park featured a basketball game between the ladies and gents. . . . No score given. . . . Things really started ripping along when the merry crew discovered the swings and jungle gym. Barbara Hepfinger was last seen hanging by her knees from same. . . .

The Tekes report they are busy planning their final blast of the season—with the Annual Spring Triangle Ball at the Alban Towers on May 13th. Over 150 alums and actives are expected to attend. More of the former category (See FOGGY, Page 12)

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"Forty-eight gum wrappers, 12 cigarette butts, eight orange peelings and three votes in this one—if you ask me there hasn't been enough student interest in campus politics this year."

Enrollment Body Meets; I.S.S. Sponsors Luncheon

• THE STUDENT ENROLLMENT Committee will hold an important meeting on Thursday evening at 7 p.m. in Woodhull House. All students who have petitioned for membership on the Committee should attend.

• THE INTERNATIONAL STUDENT Society will hold a picnic luncheon and election of next year's officers at the home of Miss Rosalie Arnold, the present president, on Saturday, May 7, at 1 p.m.

• CHARLES BECHTEL, Dorothy Drake and Robert Wilkie have been elected to serve as members-at-large for the School of Government 1955-56 Sub-Council.

• "THE CRISIS BETWEEN Nationalist and Red China over Quemoy and Matsu" will be the subject of Dr. Stefan T. Possony's talk at the United Nations Student Organization. The program will take place on Monday, May 9, at 8:30 p.m. at the United Nations Student Organization's clubhouse, 1751 New Hampshire Ave., N. W.

• VOTING REGULATIONS Governing May Queen Elections. 1. You must present your activities book. 2. There will be no voting by proxy. 3. The primary election will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., May 6. The run-off between the top three will be held from 1 to 2:30 p.m. 4. At the primary voting, vote for one candidate only.

• DELPHI, AN HONORARY organization for sorority women, held a tea for Wandering Greeks at Woodhull House last Thursday afternoon. The main purposes of the tea were to bring the transferred sorority girls, whose chapters are not represented on campus, into closer contact with each other, and to make them feel more at home at the University.

• DR. MITCHELL DREESE, Dean of the College of General Studies will conduct a seminar at Chaplain's Training Conference for MATS chaplains. Dr. Dreese will leave on May 2 and remain in Bermuda approximately seven (See BOARD, Page 10)

Gate and Key Elects Board

• HOWIE ROBERTS, newly elected president of Gate and Key, interfraternity honorary, announced that there would be an "After Mayday" party Friday evening, given by the Society following the program at Lisner Auditorium.

Other new officers of Gate and Key, elected last Wednesday evening, April 27, are: Ed Turco, Phi Sigma Kappa, vice-president; Alan Kay, Tau Epsilon Phi, secretary; Norman Cohen, Alpha Epsilon Pi, treasurer; Roy Dennis, Kappa Sigma, publicity chairman; and Bernie Kovach, Sigma Chi, social chairman.

Alpha, treasurer; John Buckingham, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, publicity chairman; and Horace Davis, Tau Kappa Epsilon, social chairman.

Gate and Key chooses its members for outstanding services to their fraternities and to the fraternity system. No fraternity may be represented by more than three active members at a time. Taping takes place each year at the Homecoming Dance and the IFC Prom. Members can be recognized at formal social functions by their black and white sashes and green carnations.

To promote interfraternity friendships and cooperation, the members of the Society get together at monthly meetings and at social functions, where common fraternity problems are often discussed. Plans are being made for Gate and Key to undertake a University service project during the coming year.

Director Promotes Leadership

• DO YOU WANT to be a campus leader?

Do you want to be a Student Council member, fraternity or sorority president, club prexy, IFC or Panhel delegate, and be a good one? "Team work," says Dr. Don Carlos Faith, "team work is the secret to all these things."

And Dr. Faith should know

all about teamwork and leadership. As Director of Men's Activities, he uses team work every day in acting as a liaison between the administration and the student body. That same team life is evidenced in the coordinated policies he and Miss Virginia Kirkbride, Director of Women's Activities, work out to benefit student life.

As for the leadership, Dr. Faith even teaches a course in that, Psychology 141. This course, which he teaches with Miss Kirkbride, emphasizes group understanding and group dynamics, "a pretty word for teamwork," as they apply to situations at the University.

Guest Speaker

Members of the administration are often guest speakers in the class. Mr. H. W. Herzog, who told what happens to students' money; Mr. Max Farrington, who spoke on public relations, and Dr. J. R. Sizoo, who spoke on religion as it influences the college student were but three administration lecturers.

Dr. Faith, or General Faith, as he is better known around campus, also practices this leadership technique away from the college scene. He served, in 1942 and 1943, as the first Commander of the WAC Training Command.

"But I am just as proud," he says, "of being assistant division commander of the 95th Infantry Division when it saw combat in France, Alsace-Lorraine, Belgium and Germany."

Another Job

After the war, Dr. Faith became Assistant Commandant of the Command General Staff College. He retired from the Army in 1948, came to the University, got his MA and PhD in psychology and began to teach in the psychology department.

But this wasn't Dr. Faith's first teaching assignment. Before joining the Army he taught in a "one room country schoolhouse where they taught all eight grades under the same roof," and he taught them everything from writing to home ec.

Since becoming Director of Men's Activities last June, Dr. Faith has worked to impress the need for teamwork in all student activities. Not a little of the phenomenal success of University-wide functions this year can doubtless be traced to the General with the flair for psychology.

A WHOLE CABOODLE OF LUCKY DROODLES!

WHAT'S THIS?

For solution see paragraph below.

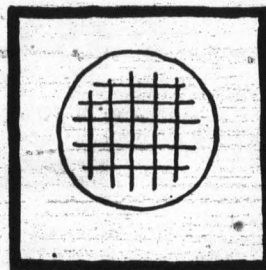

A WONDERFUL SLANT on smoking! You'll find it in the Droodle above, titled: Tourist enjoying better-tasting Lucky Strike while leaning against tower of Pisa. If your own inclination is toward better taste, join the many college smokers who prefer Luckies. From any angle, Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Little wonder that Luckies tower above all other brands in college popularity!

Business Fraternity Hears Noted Speaker

• DR. EDWIN C. ACHESON, associate professor of finance at the University, addressed members of Alpha Kappa Psi, national business fraternity, on Friday evening, April 22, on the subject of "Dollars and Diplomacy."

Dr. Acheson gave a brief outline of how various nations have used financial resources to accomplish diplomatic ends in the past. He continued with a discussion of the United States as a creditor nation since 1917. According to Dr. Acheson, the United States owed more money than any other country in the world before 1917. Within the following two years the position was reversed and the United States had become the international financial center.

The central theme of Dr. Acheson's lecture was the presentation of his "five-point program" which he would have the United States adopt in order to live up to its leadership responsibilities.

Something to Learn

His first point was that America must learn that this world does not love the "top dog," the United States as the largest creditor nation. Many U. S. citizens have been shocked to learn that we are unpopular abroad. We do not seem to understand the lack of appreciation of the part of aid recipients. However, in the era when Great Britain was the top international financier we understood the attitude. The United States must learn that no one looks up to a creditor.

Dr. Acheson's second point was that the U. S. must divide its aid between arms and economic aid. In giving armament aid abroad, our objective is to arm an ally, and in no sense are we giving a "gift."

Another Point

The third point stated that, in economics, enlightened self interest, not charity, is the basis of aid. If we tell this truth to the aid recipients, they will believe it. If we tell them the aid is a gift, they will spend five years trying to find out what the United States wants in return.

That the United States must have a consistent, clear, long-term policy and must eliminate duplication among our agencies and efforts was the fourth point in the program. Dr. Acheson added that there must be continuity and that we must stop changing our personnel within the foreign service.

Dr. Acheson concluded his lecture (See BUSINESS, Page 11)

School Voters Elect Six New Men to Board

• THE UNIVERSITY'S engineering students have just voted six of their number to the Engineer's Council under a new student election system.

Elected were Sam Mawhood and Thomas Cheswell for the seniors; Anthony Lane and Joseph Greblunas for the juniors; and Howard Davis and Fred Shelton for the sophomores.

The election marks a trend to a completely democratic method of student government representation. In the past, engineer's council representation was reserved to fraternity and society members with each organization selecting two representatives.

Under the new system, eight representatives are selected by open elections while the remaining eight seats on the Council are filled by nominees of the engineering fraternities and societies. This method reduced fraternity and society representation to one representative per group.

Mr. Mawhood, the senior delegate, is current treasurer of the Engineer's Council, business manager of Mechelect and a member of both Theta Tau and Sigma Tau. Mr. Cheswell, his fellow delegate, is active as president of the engineering honorary society, Sigma Tau.

These representatives will serve on the 1955 council.

Final Bookstore Report Promises Future Relief

• THIS IS THE last of the series of articles based on the findings of the Bookstore Study Committee:

"Since the committee found the Administration unable to make any changes in its current bookstore policy, it was felt that perhaps the faculty could be enlisted in easing the cost per course somewhat.

While the committee realized that most professors are aware of the problem and have made efforts to curb expenses in their courses, others might not be.

These include individuals who simply don't know the current costs for the materials they require; those who are operating under the veteran's philosophy, which prevailed in many colleges after the war, that most students are having their books paid for by Uncle Sam; those who think that the book is a good one and that the student should have it in his library even though it is not basic to the course; and others who feel that the students will not read the books if they have to go to the library to obtain them.

Meeting Held

Accordingly, a meeting was arranged between the chairman of the committee and Dean of Faculties Oswald O. S. Colclough to encourage faculty aid. It was suggested that any deficiency which a professor might feel would result from limiting the basic texts in his course could be compensated by more use of the library with secondary, or less-used, texts, being put on reserve. It was also pointed out that the bookstore is carrying a number of good paper-bound books which can be employed as standard course material.

Agreement Reached

Dean Colclough was cognizant of the problem and agreed to take the matter up with the deans and various faculty members to see what could be done without restricting the air of academic freedom which the University must, of necessity, maintain to attract good professors. We have since received word that he has had several discussions with members of the faculty on this matter.

The committee hopes that by the fall semester the faculties of the various schools and departments will have had an opportunity to review their courses with an eye to modifying the cost load of the student without injuring the overall academic program.

Annual Posies Bloom Again

by Elva Schroebel

• ABOUT THIS TIME of the year the "Yard," garden spot of our concrete campus blooms with roses, azaleas, lilac bushes, magnolia trees and even a little bit of ivy.

During the winter, as we splash through rain puddles on the sidewalks, we tend to forget about the two beautifully tended and carefully wired-off rose beds in the Yard, the bright pink azalea bush beside the west side exit of Building C or the lilac bushes scattered around behind the President's Office that give the campus a touch of Ivy League flavor.

Soon, however, they will be coming alive in full flower and scent, as we sit out in the spring sun studying or having an outdoor language class.

Some Ivy League

Certainly what little Ivy League atmosphere we have is well emphasized each Spring. Mrs. Smith, garden consultant of the University, plans the landscaping carried out by the grounds staff. But, it is rumored, President Cloyd H. Marvin, takes the biggest interest in the flowers. It is said that many a surprised young co-ed has found herself being presented with a bouquet of lilacs by the President of the University.

The rose bushes often are of special interest to the President, who can frequently be seen strolling along the concrete path occasionally picking a few for his office.

These same rose bushes are also rumored to be the source of supply for a gang of small boys who go around peddling bouquets come spring. So, next time a small urchin tries to sell you a rather wilted bouquet, think twice before you part with your quarter, it may be stolen merchandise.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young engineer is responsible for design analysis of $3,000,000 turbine-generators

The average large steam turbine-generator costs $3,000,000 and takes two years to build. It is one of the biggest pieces of electrical equipment made. Yet its thousands of parts are put together as carefully as a fine watch. Even a small change in design can affect the stresses and vibration of the turbine, and the way it performs. At General Electric, several men share the responsibility of predicting those effects before the turbine is built. One of them is 29-year-old E. E. Zwicky, Jr.

His job: analytical engineer

Here's what Ted Zwicky does. He takes a proposed mechanical design feature, describes it mathematically, breaks it down into digestible bits, modifies it, and feeds it to electronic computers. (It may take two months to set up a problem; the computers usually solve it in twenty minutes.) Then Zwicky takes the answers from the computers, translates and interprets them so they can be followed by design engineers.

23,000 college graduates at General Electric

This is a responsible job. Zwicky was readied for it in a careful program of development. Like Zwicky, each of our 23,000 college-graduate employees is given a chance to find the work he does best and to realize his full potential. For General Electric believes this: When young minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the company, and the country.

TED ZWICKY, B. S. in EE from the University of New Mexico, Class of 1945, joined General Electric after a year in the Navy, completed our Advanced Engineering Program in 1950.

Hillel Dinner Features Awards

• AT THE annual awards banquet Frances Bran was named the new president of Hillel for the coming year.

At the same banquet, which was held last Sunday evening at the Hillel house, Jerry Reinsdorf was named the new vice-president, Shelley Grossman secretary and Herbie Silver the new treasurer.

The incoming officers were sworn in immediately following the dinner, which was attended by a large number of people including the outgoing Executive Council of the Hillel Foundation and several members of the Board of Governors. The latter are the people from Hillel's sponsoring body, B'nai B'rith.

Rabbi Aaron Aseidman, very pleased with the turnout and the interest, was particularly happy to see the Board members. The Rabbi, who is director of Hillel at the University said, "This is really the first year that B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation Board of Governors members have attended the banquet. Such a liaison between the parent body and the students can only lead to the betterment of student activities and increased benefit to them from their college days.

Leon Salzberg and Rosa Weiner received Hillel Keys of honor for outstanding work done for the Foundation. Certificates of honor for meritorious service rendered went to Jim Rudin, Carolyn Berk, Frances Bran, Shelly Grossman, Jerry Reinsdorf, Phil Eisenberg, Marilyn Glazer, and Herb Silver.

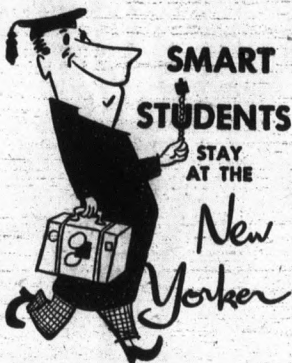

A special award was given to Mrs. Maisel, who has done the catering for the Hillel supper hour on Monday nights during the past year.

Leon Salzberg, upon leaving office, remarked, "We of Hillel are very pleased with the large turnout and interest both in the elections and at the banquet. It is such interest that gives me confidence in what I have striven to do for Hillel in the past year, and such interest gives me equal confidence that Hillel can continue to grow and prosper for many years to come. I sincerely want to thank everybody for everything that they have done, and I am only sorry that everybody who did much, and there are many, wasn't able to receive recognition."

Frances Bran announced that there will be no lag in activities between now and the end of the semester.

Open to all students at the University will be a recorded poetry hour featuring the works of T. S. Eliot tonight at 8:15. Thursday evening at 8:15 there will be the opening of a Seminar on courtship and marriage. A special film will be shown at the Seminar. Both of these open and free events this week will take place at the Hillel house here on the campus.

THE GREAT CAP and GOWN CONTROVERSY

The cap and gown season is upon us, and with it comes the perennial question: which side of the cap should the tassel hang on?

This is an argument that arises every year to roll the academic world, and it is, alas, no closer to solution today than it was in 1604 when Fred Tassel invented the troublesome ornament.

Fred Tassel, incidentally, never made a penny from his invention. The sad fact is he never took out a patent on it. This tragic oversight becomes understandable, however, when one considers that patents were not invented till 1851 by Fred Patent, himself a pitiable figure. A compulsive handwasher, he died in his fourteenth year, leaving behind a wife and five spotless children.

But I digress. We were discussing which side of the cap the tassel should hang on.

For many years the universally accepted practice was to hang the tassel over the front of the cap. This practice was abandoned in 1942 when the entire graduating class of Northwestern University, blinded by tassels hanging in their eyes, made a wrong turn during commencement exercises and ended up at the Great Lakes Training Center where, all unwitting, they were inducted into the Navy for five year hitches.

There is one school of thought—large and growing daily larger—which holds that the tassel should be worn on the same side you carry your Philip Morris cigarettes. Thus a quick glance will show you where your Philip Morris are and save much time and fumbling.

This makes a good deal of sense because when one wants a Philip Morris, one wants one with a minimum of delay. One does not relish being kept, even for a second, from the clean, delicate flavor of Philip Morris, so artfully blended, so subtly concocted to please the keen and alert taste buds of young smokers. One chafes at any obstacle, however small, that is put in the way of enjoying this most edifying of cigarettes, so pleasing to the perceptive palate. Here, in king size or regular, at prices that do no violence to the slimmest of budgets, is a firm white cylinder of balm and pure, abiding content.

There is another group, small but vocal, that insists the tassel should hang over the back of the cap. The tassel, they say, is a symbol like the bullfighter's pigtail, signifying honor and courage.

They are wrong. Bullfighters wear pigtails for only one reason: to keep the backs of their necks warm. Do you have any idea what a draft a bull makes when he rushes past you? A plenty big one, you may be sure.

In fact, upper respiratory infections, contracted in the wake of passing bulls, are the largest single cause of bullfighting fatalities. I have this interesting statistic from the Bullfighters Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Connecticut, one of the few insurance companies in Hartford, Connecticut, which writes insurance exclusively for bullfighters. Incidentally, Hartford, the insurance capital of America, is a most interesting city and well worth a visit if you are ever in New England, as northeastern United States is, for some reason, called. Hartford can be reached by bus, train, plane, and the Humboldt Current. Try to make your visit in spring, when the actuaries are in bloom.

But I digress. We were talking about what side to wear the tassel on. An ingenious solution to this troubling problem was proposed a few years ago by Fred Sigafos, perhaps better known as "The Quoit King of Delaware." An early forbear of Mr. Sigafos, Humboldt Sigafos (who later invented the current which bears his name) was granted a monopoly by King George III on all quoits manufactured in Delaware. Somehow the royal appointment was never rescinded and from that day to this, every quoit made in Delaware has been a Sigafos Quoit.

Well, sir, Fred Sigafos once suggested that an equitable settlement to the great tassel controversy would be to starch the tassels so they stood upright and hung on no side of the cap at all. Mr. Sigafos was, of course, only seeking to broaden his market, because after graduation, what can you do with an upright tassel but hurl quoits at it?

Signs Announce Spring; Annual Disease Arrives

by Ernie Auerbach

• "SPRING-TIME is that time of year, when one loves, suffers and drinks more beer."

Strolling between the Union and the Hall of Government, couples titter and smile, stared at when victims of subjective beauty, envied when blessed with partners of objective loveliness.

days. His transportation will be furnished by Military Air Transport Service.

• THE FIRST ANNUAL banquet of Alpha Omega Alpha, national medical honor society, established at the University last fall, was held last Friday night at the Kennedy-Warren Hotel. The speaker was Dr. James J. Waring, Emeritus Professor of Medicine at the University of Colorado, speaking on "The Gentle Physician."

• THE SOCIETY OF Sigma Xi, scientific honorary at the University has announced the election of nineteen faculty members and graduates to full membership. Newly elected officers of the society are: Dr. Mary L. Robbins, president; Dean Charles W. Bliven, vice-president; and Dr. Theodore P. Porros, secretary.

• THE SPANISH CLUB will meet Wednesday, May 4, at 8:15 p.m. at the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity house, 2006 G Street. Mrs. Supervia, wife of Professor Supervia, will give a talk entitled "Festival in Spain."

• DELTA CHAPTER OF Epsilon Phi, the National Botany Honorary Fraternity, was host for the national meetings held at the University this last week end. The meetings concluded with the Annual Dinner at which Dr. Lyman B. Smith presented a discussion of "Pineapples and Public Health."

The piercing shrills of the fire engines, eternally going the wrong way on G street, are welcome sounds over an instructor's feeble efforts. It's a good feeling, the open windows usher in a clean, green smell, displacing the dank odor of cigarette ash and sweaty cloth coats.

Sings of spring at the University: Leo's screen doors are pressed into another season of work; open convertibles squeak to a halt in front of the sorority rooms; professors forget their lectures, sigh, stare fondly out of the window, and tell listless jokes. Signs of spring, they're all over. Benches in back of Monroe, roses in back of Monroe, fences, protector of the green are removed from the (See SIGNS, Page 14)

• THE UNIVERSITY CHAPTER of the American Society of Civil Engineers has received a citation from the national society for "excellence in the effective and meritorious conduct of their affairs" during the past year.

• THE STUDENT LIFE Committee held a breakfast meeting at the Faculty Club at 8 a.m. Monday. Their next regular meeting will be on Friday, May 12, at 4 p.m. in Dr. Jarman's office.

Artistic Club Closes Show

• THE SEVENTH ANNUAL Art Show, held in Lisner Library during the month of April, closed last Sunday.

Pictures which were displayed may be claimed by their owners until Friday in the Activities Office of the Student Union Annex.

The show was sponsored by the Art Club of the University which has been active throughout the year. The club undertook poster making for various events as a project. Members have just completed posters for the Engineers' Ball.

Reception of the art show pleased the Art Club members. Jane O'Brien, president, said that she was especially happy at the number of reviews concerning the show which appeared in local papers. "We feel that it helps publicize our work as well as the individual artists," she said.

Elections for the art club will be held this Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m., in the Art Club office of the Student Union Annex. The club's activities for the year will close with a tea given by Dr. Donald C. Kline of the Art Department on May 14 to introduce the new president.

The Art Club is also trying to build up its membership. The current members are working on plans for next year which they hope will attract more members.

Law School's Dance Closes Social Year

• THE LAW SCHOOL coraled a Union full of people to attend the "Last Roundup," final social dance of the year, Friday night.

With a crowd of dancing coeds and boys, attired in everything from business suits to dungarees, from cotton skirts to black sheaths, the dance exemplified the free and easy character of the whole program this year, a year of unparalleled success, according to Miss Elizabeth Burtner, head of the Dance Department.

The social dance program is sponsored each year by the Student Council and the Dance Groups.

All of the sets and decorations, varied for each dance, were done by Ginny Page. Music has been provided by records and a variety of orchestras. Chic Wayne and his group played Friday night amid the grim cowboy and wooden horse sets and gave way at intermission to John Stockton and Graham King on the guitar and banjo.

Miss Reed and Lois Eliot sang to the boys' accompaniment and rocked the Union with their rendition of "Ricochet" and "True Love Goes On and On." The audience joined in on a rousing version of "Blue Tailed Fly." The girls left the stage to the boys for the last number. Graham and John twanged and picked out a rollicking version of "I'll Still Write Your Name in the Sand," touchingly dedicated to Corky Devlin.

The rest of the evening was spent in dancing and drinking "Big O'ranges," Graham's apt name for Mrs. Ralph Perry's orange drinks. In thinking over the past year, Miss Burtner gave special attention to Mrs. Perry's service this year in seeing that refreshments were available and in keeping the Union closed so that the dances can come off on time. "After all, it's practically her home," said Miss Burtner.

As the happy dancers left to go home at the witching hour the lights went on and the cleanup crew came in. Within minutes the cozy atmosphere of the earlier hours was gone. It was just the union once more, with the tables in neat rows and the cabaret candles and colorful decorations gone for another year to rest in the attic of Building J.

Student Bar Holds Annual Elections

• WILLIAM DRISCOLL was recently elected president of the Student Bar Association.

Mr. Driscoll, who will serve for the school year 1955-56, was elected in the polling held by the association on Monday and Tuesday at Stockton Hall. He defeated Dan Shoemaker by the count of 303 to 251 votes.

Bill Howard was the victor over John Dominguez for the office of day vice-president, and Phil DeTurk has been elected to the night vice-presidency by virtue of his victory over Jim Cornbrooks.

Mary Jo Dickson defeated Joanne O'Neal and Tommy Stanley for the office of secretary in a very close election. Likewise in a close race, Ralph Nash was elected treasurer. Mr. Nash defeated Larry Wiser and Bill Mammarella.

Race

In a very hotly contested race, Aaron Alembik, Dick Richmond and Bob Silver were elected day delegates. Their night counterparts for the coming year will be Charles Menzemer, Richard H. Bryer and Richard H. Speer.

At this election a constitutional amendment also was passed. The amendment, in effect, pins down the responsibility for the Law School Student Book Exchange.

574 Voters

Mr. Driscoll succeeds Edward O. Ansell, who is now graduating. Mr. Ansell, well pleased with the turnout of 574 voters, said immediately after the elections, "I am gratified at the large turnout at the polls; and I want to thank everybody for the fine support given the Student Bar Association last year."

The new President will be going into the second year of his three year course during the day at the Law School. He is a native of Brooklyn, New York, and he received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Manhattan College.

Effective Board

After his election, Mr. Driscoll made this statement: "The outgoing Student Bar Association Board has been one of the most effective in recent memory. While there is room for improvement in more recent innovations and in some committee work, a true bipartisan effort is necessary to accomplish these reforms to the fullest measure."

The SBA Board of Governors were sworn in at their first meeting last Thursday night.

Information Director Speaks Here; I. R. C. Listens to Annexation Views

• THE GREEK Embassy's Director of Information, Mr. Constantine Trantanfelakos, believes that a free election will determine whether Cyprus wants independence, to be annexed to Greece, or be colonized.

The Information Director said his government does not favor outright annexation. This opinion is the island's legal right under Article 673 of the United Nations Charter which provides for self-determination in mature territories, he pointed out.

Greece has presented a proposal at the United Nations for these free elections. The people of Cyprus have less political freedom under the present British administration than they had under Turkish domination. The full local autonomy which they were granted during the latter period does not exist today. Taxation for the support of British civil servants has also become an economic burden on the people.

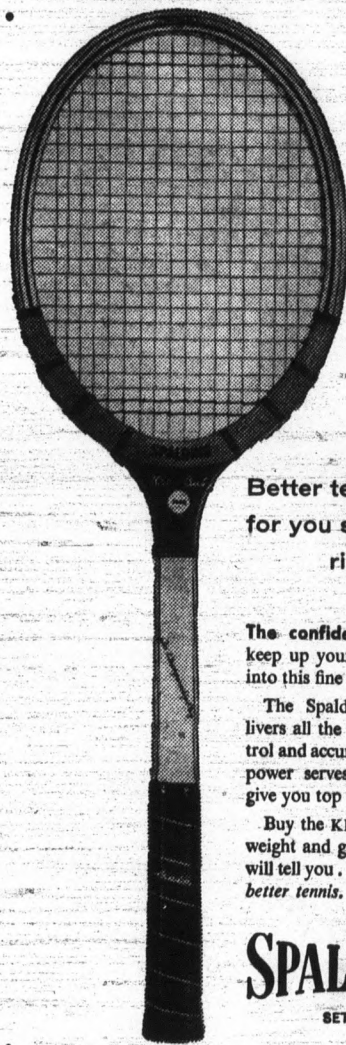

The first official appeal to the U. N. for the right of self-determination was made in 1953 by the Archbishop of Cyprus who is the political representative of the people. Various nations were asked by Greece to appeal for action but the request was rejected. Several nations voiced the opinion that island's like Cyprus could never be given the right to choose their position.

Finally, after an appeal from Greece, the question was taken up and a preliminary committee voted 9 to 3 in favor of further consideration. Objections asserted by Great Britain on the grounds that the question was one of domestic jurisdiction and that it constituted territorial claims was overruled by the committee.

After a second review which affirmed the decision to consider the question, New Zealand asked for its removal and it was decided that no action would be taken during that session. The issue now awaits further action.

Harvard Offers 'Roscoes'
• (ACP)—The Harvard Lampoon, student humorous monthly, recently voted "The Caine Mutiny" as the best argument against naval ROTC, and decided "The Long, Long Trailer" was the greatest waste of gas of the year.

They voted special "Roscoes" to Tony Curtis, "whose marcelled and mobile grease locks have titillated scores of bobby soxers."

Today's Gruesome Topic

• DUBUQUE, IA. (ACP)—Students at a freshman speech class in Clarke College here did a double-take and then shuddered when their instructor blandly announced: "Today we'll have first aid and

According to the college paper, The Courier, the instructor noted the look of utter confusion in his class, hastily explained he meant the first speaker would be Nan Aid, followed by Shirley Blood.

Kappa Sigs' stag party for the fraternities of Gallaudet College for the Deaf turned out to be the noisiest event in years. Kappa Sigs have usually been able to hold their own in Indian Sigs, but the brothers of Gallaudet were very successful in driving the Kappa Sigs home. . . . K-Sigs sang fraternity songs which were rewarded by a tremendous sign-language rendition of Coney Island, and a perfect silent mimic of Martin and Lewis.

The Phi Sig house was filled with sundry varieties of military uniform at the annual Phi Sig military brawl, which was a smashing success, as parties go. Since Phi Sig is three-fourths veterans, the war stories flew thick and fast. Conrad "War is Hell" Touhy swapped war stories with Ed "World War II was the real war" Ferrero and Chuck "Airborne" Forbes. Ex-Sailor Tom Ramos was seen on a reconnaissance mission on the garage roof, but no one knows whether or not the mission was successful.

The party was also blessed by the presence of practically all of Pi Beta Phi . . . and after one o'clock, was invaded by six crummy civilians: Joe Hince, and Jane Case, Steve Judge and Betsy Silver, and Bill and Dottie Mansfield.

So, on that score alone varsity sports must be maintained.

Builds Spirit

They should be kept for other reasons, too. The chief one is that varsity competition helps build school spirit (when a team plays at least half its games at home, that is). So, intercollegiate sports are worthwhile for the support they give to the intramural setup, and for building up school interest and enthusiasm.

And what about the boy who plays on a varsity team and receives aid in the form of an athletic scholarship? In most cases the boy would never receive a college education had it not been for an athletic grant. The argument is often given that a boy with high scholastic ability receives a scholarship to college, so why shouldn't a boy with athletic prowess receive one too? There is some logic to this supposition, but not much.

By accepting this viewpoint, one equates scholastic excellence with athletic skill. To us, this comparison on equal planes is absurd.

Isolated

It is what happens to a subsidized athlete after he comes to college that bothers us. Too often an athletic group isolates itself from the rest of the campus. Too often the athletes scorn the rest of the student body. Naturally such intolerance works both ways. Many college students will go and cheer wildly at a ball game, but when the tilt is over, he will criticize the players on his team with such words as, "Bum," "Slob," or "Muscle-bound meat ball." These words are harsh, cruel, and unfair. It should be pointed out that understanding is needed on both sides. Our wish is that the athletic segment of the campus would completely assimilate itself with the rest of the school. Yet, this can never be done for several reasons.

First, there is always a great deal of bad feeling concerning subsidized athletes coming from many of the scholastic scholarship holders. Their story runs thusly, "These guys got a lot of aid just to play ball. They have lower standards in the retention of their scholarships. It isn't fair." It will take a lot of propaganda to overcome this inherent prejudice.

Second, and most important,

THE UNIVERSITY HATCHET, Tuesday, May 3, 1955-13

the athlete simply does not have the time to completely submerge himself in extra curricular activities. The athlete must devote a great deal of time to his varsity career, plus his school work. He has little time to meet and greet the student body.

No Panacea

If these statements seem to lead nowhere, all well and good. We are not here to act as a panacea for the ills that plague intercollegiate athletics. We can only offer our views. We do have one definite suggestion: Varsity and intramural programs are vital to a university. It is up to the student body and the college authorities to set the proper balance between the two. We feel quite strongly that intramurals deserve more support, and thanks to an inept football schedule next fall, intramurals here will have an opportunity to flourish as never before. For this we are glad.

 In the G. W. U. Fencing Tournament held Thursday in the gym, an eleven-man round robin determined the places for individuals and teams. Vernon Elder, president of the G. W. Fencing Club, won the individual honors with ten wins and no losses. Ed Huff of Acacia was second with eight wins and two losses, and Carl Sadoti of Theta Delta Chi was third. John Hill, Theta Delta, and Talbert Dick, Acacia, tied for fourth place. Three teams of three men each competed, and the first place in the team competition went to Acacia, with Theta Delta Chi taking second, and an independent team hauling down Results of the tennis, bowling and golf have not been tabulated as yet, but they will be known next week.

Turner Stops W-L Generals As Colonial Nine Wins, 7-1

OUT AT FIRST
... Ray Looney nips a General

• ROGER TURNER, classy former Western High lefthander, won his fourth straight Southern Conference game as he held W&L to 4 hits for a 7-1 win Saturday on the West Ellipse. The win was the fourth in five Conference contests and left the Colonials with a 7-4 overall record. Turner was superb, allowing no earned runs and striking out four. Raul Weinstein, former high school teammate of Turner's, got one of the General's hits. G. W. backed the curve-baller with 11 smashes, including Bo Austin's third inning homer.

Hoya Cousins

The Colonials went to visit their "cousins" in Georgetown last Thursday and immediately made themselves at home by entrenching themselves as home team at the Medical Field. Then, showing extreme rudeness, G. W. ground the Hoyas into fine pieces for a 7-2 win and its second straight victory against the Hoyas.

Steve Bauk started and went the distance for his third win against one loss this year. The Newark, N. J., junior was touched for 12 hits by the Georgetowners, but spread them around enough to stay out of serious trouble. Bauk walked two men.

Georgetown opened with an earned run in the first inning, when senior shortstop Jerry Paparella threw wide past first base to allow Dale Smith to get on. Smith later scored on a safety by Harrison.

Bull Returns

G. W. came back in its half of the first with two runs on a single by Paparella with the bases jammed. The Colonials loaded the bases again in the second inning and went ahead for keeps on Joe Rosania's three-run double. Rosania drove in another tally in the sixth to total 4 RBI's for the afternoon.

Georgetown picked up a second run in the fourth, but all-told, had trouble reaching Bauk for anything good. Whenever the Hoyas got on base, Bauk bore down and stayed out of danger. He left an even dozen Hoyas stranded on base.

G. W. could gather only eight safeties but put them together in the right combinations at the right times. All but three Colonials hit safely, and five men were left on. Of the eight hits, Bo Austin had a booming triple and Paparella and Rosania had doubles.

Big Three

G. W. won its sixth in ten starts, while Georgetown was dropping its sixth in ten outings. The triumph put the Colonials in a solid position to win the Big Three championship. They are now 2-0 and have only to whip Maryland in order to take the prize.

G. W. will hit the road for a five-game trip through the Southern Conference, then return home for two games to wind up the season. The Colonials play VMI on Friday, then jump over for a match with VPI on Saturday. Tuesday, May 10, shows the club in Williamsburg against William and Mary.

Sigma Chi, TEP Turn in Victories

• IN SPITE of threatening weather, the intramural softball leagues played a full schedule Saturday and Sunday, with upsets in every league.

In League B, powerful Phi Alpha was overhauled by Phi Sigma Kappa, 6-5. A hit by Rod Hower scored Tom Hand from third with the winning run to give the Phi Sigs a 6-0 record and undisputed first place in the league. In the second Phi Sig contest, Lud Griner pitched a 2-0 no-hitter over TKE.

In league A top-ranked SAE was set back twice, by Sigma Chi and TEP. Lou Donofrio pitched the Sigs to a 7-6 victory over SAE and scored the winning run himself on a hard-hit grounder to third base. ROTC's forfeit to the Sigs gives them a 4-0 record for first place in League A. Later in the afternoon Leo Ballard pitched TEP to a strong win over SAE, 18-12. Jay Weiss and Dick Binstock led the TEP's hitting. Earlier TEP forfeited to PiKA.

Acacia's winning ways came to an end Saturday in League C ball as they were turned back by Delta Theta Phi, 11-7, and by the Med School, 11-2. The Med School also defeated Welling Hall, 12-1 to take over first place with a 4-0 record. Other action in League C saw Welling Hall defeat Delta Theta Phi, 21-4, and Kappa Sigma forfeited to Welling and Delta Theta Phi.

In League A, PiKA downed Phi Alpha 'B', 8-5, and the Newman Club forfeited to Phi Alpha 'B'. League B saw Phi Alpha beat AEPI, 5-1 and the Law School won a pair, 12-6 over the Deltas and 7-6 over Sigma Nu. AEPI defeated SPE, 13-4, as SPE forfeited to the Deltas.

Rudin's Ramblings

by Jim Rudin

• NOW THAT WE are near the end of the trail, we are going to let off excess steam in these last issues. As we leave the University this Spring we sense a change in the athletic tastes of the student body. We are pleased to see a tremendous increase in intramural interest. As stated before, next Fall should see a boom in intramural football. Since the varsity schedule is so weak on the home games, more students probably will root in person at the intramural grid games.

Best Thing

To us this is the best thing that can happen. Despite three years of exposure to subsidized athletic teams, our likes still revert back to the amateur inter-collegiate competition found in small New England colleges.

Intramural sports deserve our attention, because of their true "college try," because of their absolute amateur standing, and because of its great spirit.

It is our contention that intramural sports should get a large chunk of the athletic dollar and more newspaper space. It goes without saying that varsity athletics pay for intramural program.

(See RUDIN, Page 15)

Larry Spellman Hits Peak with Big Hole in One at Williamsburg Match

by Fred Cassidy

• A GOLFER can expect to sink a hole in one once each 5000 trips to the tee. So says Lloyds of London, the internationally known insurance firm.

Larry Spellman must have reached that lucky five thousand mark playing for GW's golf team at William and Mary College on Friday, April 15, for he scored a hole in one; his first, and also the first ever scored by any GW golfer in varsity competition.

Seventeenth Hole

Larry's ace came on the 186-yard seventeenth hole at the Williamsburg, Virginia, golf course. The GW golfer was two strokes down as he lofted a three-iron shot off the tee. The seventeenth is an uphill hole and Larry couldn't see the ball after it bounced on the green but Wayne Rinick, team captain, was standing nearby. When Larry's shot dropped in the cup, Wayne shouted back down the slope, "It's in the cup," and Larry's knees buckled with surprise. He admits now, "It kinda stunned me."

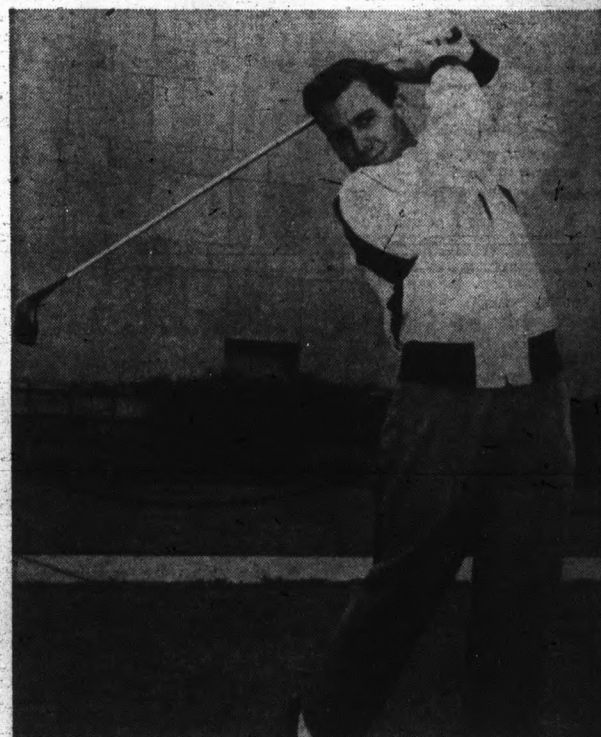

The hole in one entitled Larry to a medal from the Professional Golfers' Association and a trophy case in which to mount the ball.

Chairman Selection

• THE STUDENT Council will select the Career Conference co-chairmen and the editors of the Freshman Handbook on Wednesday night, May 4, at 8:30 in the Student Annex Conference Room.

Anyone interested may attend this meeting.

Also a free case of ginger ale was submitted from one of the Washington bottling companies. Larry doesn't like ginger ale, however, and he has mounted the ball in a home-made trophy stand.

Wins Match

Larry evened the score on that lucky seventeenth, stayed even on the eighteenth and won his match on the nineteenth hole (no joke) by one stroke.

Four years of competitive golf at St. John's Academy plus a year's experience on the GW freshman team have helped Larry to become one of the best college golfers around, although he is only a sophomore.

While Larry was at St. John's the golf team won the District of Columbia high school championship three years out of four and the Eastern Interscholastic championship in 1953. He was captain
